

Literacy Center: Chain of Events

You will need:
a book you have read
two Chain of Events Worksheets
one Writing Worksheet
a pencil
scissors glue
a large piece of colored paper

Activity

Think about the sequence of events in the book you have read.

- Fill out one of the Chain of Events forms.
- Paste the Chain of Events on the left side of the large colored paper to make your chart.
- Think about how one event lead to another. Think about how things might have changed if one event had been different.
- Using the second Chain of Events worksheet, think of different things that might have happened along the way. Change one event.  Place your version of that event to the right of the original event. Draw an arrow from the original event to your version.
- Fill out the Change of Events cards, indicating the new sequence of events. Glue them to your chart.
- Explain how the changed event might have affected the outcome of your story on the Writing page.

Chain of Events

Title of Book

First Event

Second Event

Third Event

Conclusion

Writing Assignment:

Write about the event that you changed in the story, and how this changed event might have changed the conclusion of the story.
